Berlinale Spotlight: Perspektive Deutsches Kino

In Berlin, from late August to mid-December 2018, Perspektive Deutsches Kino, the Berlinale's section for new young talents, will present five films and their directors from this year's programme. In doing so, the Berlinale Spotlight is extending the Festival, making it possible for its programme to be seen throughout the year.

"With Berlinale Spotlight: Perspektive Deutsches Kino, we're building a bridge that will get people ready for the next Berlinale in February 2019. At City Kino Wedding we'll be showing five documentary and fiction films that have not been released to cinemas yet. Berlin audiences can expect some interesting evenings at the movies," says section head Linda Söffker. Following the screenings, audiences are invited to take part in discussions with the directors, hosted by Linda Söffker.

Überall wo wir sind (Everywhere We Are), directed by Veronika Kaserer

Documentary form

Winner of the Compass Perspektive Award for the best film of the 2018 programme

To quote the jury statement: "Veronika Kaserer has made a film about grief, which at the same reminds us that life is worth living. With an astonishing closeness, unconventional montage, and many surprising moments, she portrays the last weeks and days of Heiko Lekutat, a 29-year-old Berlin dance instructor, and, most notably, his wonderful, big-hearted family."

Followed by a discussion with director Veronika Kaserer

Tuesday, October 16, 2018, 7 pm

Verlorene (Lost Ones), directed by Felix Hassenfratz

With: Maria Dragus, Anna Bachmann, Clemens Schick, Enno Trebs

After the death of their mother, Maria and Hannah have been living alone with their father. When Valentin, a journeyman carpenter, begins to work in the family business, Maria falls in love with him. A dark secret hinders Maria from pursuing her love.

Followed by a discussion with director Felix Hassenfratz
